Tallahassee: Florida's Historic Meeting Place

Ambitious from the Beginning

Two hundred years ago, John Lee Williams of Pensacola and Dr. William Simmons of St. Augustine met in what is now Tallahassee-Leon County to determine the site of Florida's new capital. It was, perhaps, the most important meeting in our state's history. Since then, Tallahassee has become the ideal spot for memorable meetings, reunions and conferences, often held in historic venues where echoes of the past converge with aspirations of the future. Find out for yourself and share in our community's Bicentennial celebration!

A Taste of Tallahassee

Blending traditional Southern cuisine and modern eateries with fresh, farm-to-table fare and craft breweries, Tallahassee is a true epicurean experience. With flavors as unique as the chefs that create them, satisfy your palate at any of our mouth-watering restaurants or bars.

HISTORIC TALLAHASSEE

Nestled under the canopy of moss-covered oak trees, Table 23 provides culinary and craft drink options that are as diverse as the community it calls home. Embracing the original “bones” of its 1920s restored residence, Table 23 serves southern hospitality for nearly 300 through its main floor, second floor rental space and an outdoor porch bar.

Other Tallahassee Staples: Kool Beanz Café, Georgio’s, Hopkins’ Eatery

BLACK-OWNED RESTAURANTS

Black-owned restaurants are an essential part of Tallahassee cuisine and culture. Whether you’re craving Southern-style cooking, fresh seafood or something sweet, Tallahassee has a wide selection of restaurants to satisfy your appetite.

For over 30 years, Earley’s Kitchen has been dishing up good ol’ Southern country cooking for breakfast and lunch while Rattlers and Southern food lovers alike, including then-Vice President Joe Biden, visit Olean’s Café for some of the best soul food in the South.

Other Black-Owned Dining: Gurlie’s Lemonade and Sweets, Pineappétit, JoEllen’s

FARM TO TABLE

Backwoods Crossing takes farm-to-table to the next level by sourcing local fruits, veggies, meats, seafood and wine from local producers and growing their own! What began as a few raised beds in the front lawn to supply the restaurant with fresh herbs has morphed into a full-fledged 3½-acre farmette supplying fresh produce year-round. Their private dining room accommodates up to 40 guests.
